A Lifetime of Music

SUBJECT: Bryston BDP-1 Customer Feedback

James.

Finally joined the BDP club. I picked up that demo BDP-1 yesterday and got it set up with MPOD using my iPhone.

As for the audio quality, it's very satisfying. I have been using MacBook pro and AppleTV for my HT/2-ch system with Empirical Audio Synchronesh and a highly expensive digital cable (the cable does make a big difference for me). But BDP-1 just makes the music the way it is meant to sound like.

To me, it sounds more coherent and timing is just right. Maybe this is what they call phase coherency. I'm not good at explaining with the audiophile terms, all I know is this is now very close to what I've been chasing for 2 years. Have to give up that versatile Apple interface though, which is very hard for me and resisted for a long time, but I feel it is all worth it once BDP-1 started playing music in my rig.

I guess, I'll be buying a BDP-2 soon and move the BDP-1 to the bedroom system.
